Only Elephants Should Wear Ivory
The largest of the five East African countries, the United Republic of Tanzania is practically surrounded by water with Lakes Victoria and Tanganyika to the north and west, Lake Nyasa in the south and the whole of its 1424 kilometres long eastern border and the islands of Zanzibar being lapped by the warm Indian Ocean.

Located just south of the Equator, Tanzania enjoys a tropical climate constantly warm throughout the year, humid at the coast, fresh and bracing in the highlands, and tempered by breezes on the islands. Twice yearly rainy seasons bring the vital green seasons to the bush and help to maintain the abundant wildlife and big game for which Tanzania is justly world famous.

With over a quarter of its total area of 945,087 square kilometres set aside for game parks and reserves, Tanzania boasts some of the finest wildlife sanctuaries in the world, including the World Heritage Sites of Serengeti National Park, the Ngorongoro Crater, and Selous Game Reserve. Alongside these famous sites are Mount Kilimanjaro, Tarangire, Lake Manyara, Mikumi, Ruaha and Zanzibar Islands which have for long crowned the Tanzania destination, readily appearing on the itineraries of tour planners on the market place. There are many other areas of stunning beauty like the game parks of Katavi, Mahale Mountains, Gombe Stream, Mkomazi, Saadani, Udzungwa Mountains, and Kitulo or the historical sites of Kilwa in southern Tanzania, which are now coming on to the scene but rarely featured in safari itineraries in the past. This is simply because the infrastructure and facilities in those areas were not as developed and Tanzania has many such pristine nature reserves yet to be explored for nature recreation.

Tanzania is a mélange of different cultures, emanating from the interaction of the many tribes within its borders, as well as the early visitors on the East African coast with the local population. These include the native Bushmen who inhabited the Great Rift Valley with their intriguing rock paintings around Kondoa Irangi, the Nilo-Hamites, the Cushites and the Bantu tribes; the early traders from China, Malaysia, the Indian sub-continent, the Arabian Peninsular and the Persian Gulf, the Portuguese explorers, and more recently the Germans and the British.

There are more than 120 tribes in Tanzania, boasting a rich and diverse cultural heritage. Kiswahili is the national language spoken by all tribes in Tanzania, and used widely in other eastern and central African countries.
About Leopard Tours

As I look ahead, I am excited about the progress of tourism in Tanzania and the future for Leopard Tours. The facilities available to our visitors to Tanzania continue to improve. With this, we are able to provide a better African Experience. As a native Tanzanian, I am committed to promote Tanzania as one of the world’s leading tourist destinations. As the Managing Director of Leopard Tours, I am also committed to make sure that every safari participant has an outstanding trip with Leopard Tours.

About Leopard Tours

LEOPARD TOURS was established in 1985, as a family business, and like most small businesses had a fine reputation for personalised service. Today, 30 years later, Leopard Tours is rated as one of the leading tour operators in Tanzania, receiving thousands of visitors a year but our motivation is exactly the same to treat all visitors as our personal guests. We have invested substantially to maintain the efficiency and the personalised service that has been our foundation and is now the Leopard Tours tradition and trademark. We focused our attention on training and upgrading the personnel, opening offices in key tourist centres, expanding and modernising our workshop facilities, increasing the quantity and quality of our vehicles, and installing the necessary equipment for smooth communication with the outside world and linking our operations countrywide.

OFFICE NETWORK

Everything in the Leopard Tours organization is designed, not only to maintain the highest standards of operating efficiency and customer care, but also to build upon our achievements in our efforts to be the very best Destination Management Company in Tanzania. From our modern purpose built administration offices and vehicle maintenance centres in Arusha headquarters and Dar es Salaam branch office to our on safari base at Ngorongoro, everything has been planned to improve and enhance our services to the customer. It is an elaborate plan to ensure that our clients are personally taken care of by our own staff using Leopard Tours preferred equipment. All three offices are fully equipped with state-of-the-art communication facilities, including base HF radio station networks to link our operations and vehicles on safari all over Tanzania. In Zanzibar we have our own customer service and operations staff based there to ensure our guests enjoy the Leopard Tours personal attention. We are also maintaining offices at Kilimanjaro International Airport and Julius Nyerere International Airport Dar es Salaam to assist all our arriving and departing guests.

GROUND TRANSPORTATION

We believe in value for money. Every guest would like to have the most reliable and comfortable vehicles on safari. In response to the clients’ needs, we have a very strict vehicle replacement policy that ensures a young fleet at all times. We have a total fleet of 300 well-maintained motor vehicles, predominantly 4-wheel drives. This does away with the problem of sub-contracting vehicles and driver-guides, which may compromise the quality of services. Our safari vehicles are specifically converted for maximum space and comfort. All of them have hatched roof and sliding windows to facilitate good viewing and convenient photography during game drives and sight seeing.
Hand in hand with the growth of the fleet, Leopard Tours had to expand its workshop facilities to ensure that the fleet’s performance is up to the required standard. We have a large multipurpose workshop at the Head Office in Arusha, and a modern garage which will be housed in our newly commissioned Dar es Salaam branch office building to cater for vehicles based there and those in transit. In addition, to ensure instant assistance for vehicles on safari, we are operating a mobile garage in the northern Tanzania safari circuit and an outpost office in Ngorongoro. In line with our continued efforts to ensure smooth and distress free services for all our clients, we have embarked on a major web-based Fleet Management and Vehicle GPS / GPRS Tracking System that will enable us track, monitor and manage our growing fleet anywhere within the East African region and beyond. “These support services are essential for Leopard Tours, as we have set high standards of services for ourselves which our guests now expect and have to be maintained”

SIGNATURE BY LEOPARD TOURS

Signature by Leopard Tours is a product born of 30 years of experience in operating memorable safari tours in Tanzania. Thirty years of continual quest for excellence provided the direction and inspiration for designing the Signature by Leopard Tours car, a product a level higher than the classic safari vehicle. The focus was to offer a superior ride quality with a choice of amenities on board the 4x4 safari vehicle for your passengers.

The project is not totally new to many of us as it has been on the drawing board since 2013, and our marketing team has been out there selling the concept whenever they had the chance to. Today we are happy to propose the finished Signature car to you and your clients complete with features listed below:

- Special suspension system to counteract the uneven safari tracks and terrain in the game parks and maximise comfort when driving.
- The extended body to create a comfortable seating space for 4 passengers (vehicle seating for 6 is available on request)
- Recliner seats x 4 with lots of legroom and aisle space
- Wide sliding windows for viewing / sightseeing and photography
- A wide window screen for guests in the passenger cabin to conveniently view the sights in front.
- A pop-up roof for 360 degrees viewing and photography both in the passenger cabin and for the front seat next to the driver.
- Air-conditioned cabins for passenger and driver-guide
- Mini refrigerator
- Sockets for charging electronic devices
- Free Wi-Fi on board
- Binoculars, wildlife books for birds, mammals, plants
- Car tracking system
- Radio Call
- Spacious boot for luggage
OUR TEAM

Our policy is to employ those with the potential to be the best, in terms of performance and discipline. The driver-guides and couriers are all hand picked, and are continually under training in clients’ safety, nature interpretation, general knowledge, and foreign languages, including English, French, German, Spanish, Italian, and Japanese. Leopard Tours is constantly investing in human resource and product development, for we know it is in our interest as well as our duty to ensure that all our guests go back home happy and satisfied with our arrangements. Only this way would they be our good ambassadors to others and come back to us again.

TRAINING FOR DRIVER-GUIDES

Training is an important component in our continued effort to refine our services. Normally conducted during the low season months of March, April and May the contents of the short courses are reviewed from year to year to cover as many areas as possible in the broad tour guiding field. In the last two seasons we employed the services of a lecturer from the College of African Wildlife Management, Mweka, one of the leading wildlife schools in Africa, to conduct four-week courses running from March to mid June for our driver-guides and tour leaders.
The courses aim to improve tour guides’ knowledge, skills, attitudes and competencies necessary for them to effectively and efficiently guide visitors and interpret attractions and resources to enhance positive visitor experience.

To produce a well rounded and complete driver-guide the company also employed the services of the Tanzania National Institute of Transportation to upgrade our driver-guides in driving skills and passenger safety. The objective of the course was to impart knowledge, skills and correct attitudes to enable participants to provide quality passenger services, handle vehicles more efficiently and effectively, and observe safer driving.

The two-week intensive course was conducted in our workshop classrooms, and at the end of the course the driver-guides had to pass a driving test conducted by the Arusha city traffic police before being awarded with new licenses and certificates. National Institute of Transport is the only such training Institute in Sub-Saharan excluding South Africa, mandated by the Government of United Republic of Tanzania to offer training in transport and communications.

WORKSHOP STAFF

Working with Leopard Tours is more fun and challenge than anything else. We work like a big team, divided into departments. When our colleagues wonder how we ever manage to keep such a big fleet in top form, we feel rather flattered. Maybe it is because of the working environment. We think we have better facilities, which include fully equipped workshops in Arusha and Dar es Salaam, and the Ngorongoro outpost, the centre of safari support and relief operations on the Serengeti road. Work in the bush has now been made even easier for us by the mobile garage in the northern Tanzania game parks. Our performance in the field is legendary, and we think that is what makes the difference.

DRIVER-GUIDES

We believe in two simple values: attentiveness and knowledge. We need them in the bush, in cities, everywhere, whenever we are with guests. We know they want to learn, to enjoy and to enjoy the short time they have in our country fully. The volume of visitors we guide is quite big, but think of the fun and the lasting friendship that more often than not is gained in the course of our duty.
DIRECTOR OF MAINTENANCE
G. H. Fazal

When our fleet was 5 minibuses big, we used to go into every maintenance detail before a vehicle was allowed to go on safari. We were new in the trade and had a name to make. As a result of the commitment, our small fleet became the talk of the trade. Robust, reliable, comfortable, efficient, and so on... Thirty years later, I still go over the same maintenance rigour to make sure every nut and bolt is in the right place, this time, using a higher level of staff and modern maintenance facilities. The fleet now has grown to over 300 vehicles, and the winning standard has to be maintained in order to stay up there. We try not to subcontract outside workshops to service our vehicles as a way of controlling the quality. I am glad we have the right team and equipment, work is made much easier for everybody, including myself.

TRANSPORT MANAGER

Scheduling a fleet of 300 busy vehicles is not a small task. But there is no pressure here. Because, first I have a young fleet, secondly the drivers are well trained, thirdly communication in the bush is possible at all times, and fourthly when I need some relief service to replace a vehicle for example, it is done instantly. Without such facilities, my work would have been a nightmare.

MARKETING TEAM

It is exciting to be part of the growth of Leopard Tours. As a Marketing team, it is important for us that our products continue to meet the ever changing demands of our customers. Each of our travelers completes an evaluation at the end of their trip. We feel that each of these evaluations is an important lesson. They help us understand our clients better to continue providing the services they enjoy.

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

Our mission is to ensure that the guest is happy with our services and not inconvenienced in any way. The emphasis is on personalised service, starting right from the point of entry. The guest has to be received with a meet & greet board, followed by briefing and reconfirmation of the return or onward journey. On safari, we are constantly in touch with the driver-guide or the hotel/lodge the guest is staying in, just to make sure all is in order. After the tour, the guest is met again by the operations and field staff, debriefed and seen off. I have a fine team under me. All are well trained, most of them holding high qualifications from some of the most reputable tourism training institutes in the world.
OPERATIONS STAFF

Given the amount of business we produce, we enjoy very good cooperation from the hoteliers and other suppliers, especially concerning reserving their services. This gives us some useful leeway to sell, up to the last moment. We don’t close sales at Leopard Tours. Our team is under the able leadership of Nassir Juma Swedi, the Director of Operations who has grown with the company and boasting a wealth of experience in the industry of more than 20 years.

MOBILE CAMPING MANAGER

“It was a most wonderful, wonderful experience...a most pleasant surprise...the camp, the wildlife...a real Africa experience. Perfect...”

These are comments by one of the guests who did a one-week standard camping safari with Leopard Tours in northern Tanzania. Credit should of course go to the destination, Tanzania, land of extreme beauty, which provides the perfect setting for an authentic camping safari adventure. Camping in the game parks offers a product which is best described after it is consumed. But one thing is certain; a camping safari gets you closer to nature, a truly rewarding experience both during game drives and while at camp. It is an experience that could leave a lifetime impression on a guest exploring the game parks in Tanzania. We pick our camping crew carefully and train them well; they are efficient, friendly and unobtrusive, focused on ensuring that guests enjoy their stay in Tanzania. Our camp cooks, whom we consider key in a camping trip, take pride in catering for our guests, spoiling them with fresh and delicious bush cuisines.
INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

It was impossible to continue working manually with the rate of growth of the company and the increase in the volume of business. The establishment of a full IT Department was necessary. We have professional IT team to modernize our operations and communication systems to ensure efficiency. With this facility we are now able to reply to enquires within 24 hours. Our reservations and pricing are fully computerised, and we are well equipped to produce our own marketing materials.

QUALITY CONTROL

My work diary is always full. The so-called low season, falling between April and June, is in fact the busiest time for the Quality Control office. During this time, we train and upgrade the skills of team members, especially the driver-guides and the operations staff. We believe in training. It is only when you have a competent staff that you can rest assured of the quality of the service you have determined to provide to the guest. Besides training we request all our guests to give their evaluation of the services that we extend to them and from their comments, which are all the time constructive and sometimes in the form of complaints, we endeavor to improve on our product delivery. The guests' feed back is an essential complement to our training efforts, bringing about a fully integrated dialogue which makes it possible for us to try to meet their holiday needs while in Tanzania.
LEOPARD TOURS, DAR ES SALAAM

We are running a fully-flanked tour operation here, coordinating all Leopard Tours requirements in this region, covering the game parks of Southern Tanzania, the coastal belt, and the Islands of Mafia, Zanzibar and Pemba. When this office was opened in late 1990s, our clientele was wholly made up of Arusha Head Office sales extending into this area. We have now built up our own clientele both internationally, and from the potentially expanding domestic market in and around Dar es Salaam. Leopard Tours Dar es Salaam is now one of the leading tour companies in eastern and southern Tanzania.

Dar es Salaam Branch Office is located in our new office building on Nyerere Road, Plot No 63 Gerezani in the city centre. The new multi storey building accommodates the various branch office departments, with a motor vehicle workshop and parking bay on the ground floor.

In Southern Tanzania, we have a wonderful assortment of game parks, described as much more pristine by guests who happen to visit them. The most prominent in the circuit is the Selous (55,000 sq. km), the largest game reserve in Africa. Others are Ruaha, Mikumi, Kitulo and Udzungwa National Parks, each boasting of some flora and fauna not easily found in Northern Tanzania. The newly gazetted Saadani National Park, to the north of Dar es Salaam, is already a popular destination in the southern circuit offering a unique combination of game viewing opportunities and beach holiday in one location. The southern game parks are considered as a new frontier for development of specially exciting programs, offering small and intimate tented camps, that brings guests closer to nature while providing the comforts of a lodge or hotel in Northern Tanzania reserves. We operate our own fleet of specially designed tour vehicles, which include minibuses and 4WD vehicles for safari tours and city transfers. This makes it possible for the company to safeguard and maintain the quality and standard of ground services that we deliver throughout the country.

LEOPARD TOURS, NGORONGORO

Ngorongoro Branch office was opened soon after the establishment of Leopard Tours in Arusha in 1985. This was essential because our operations were centred mainly in northern Tanzania, with Ngorongoro being half way between Arusha Head Office and the furthest point in western and northern Serengeti. We needed an outpost in the bush to coordinate and monitor our operations along the Arusha – Serengeti route, popularly known as the Northern Safari Circuit.

We have positioned safari vehicles here as back-up for the Serengeti route. The outpost also doubles as a service station, stocked with spare parts and manned by competent mechanics. Our mobile garage, which patrol the Serengeti route calls regularly at our Ngorongoro office for spare parts requisition. We have the necessary communication facilities, including HF radio base station which, being on a higher ground, provides excellent relay services covering the entire country.

ZANZIBAR CUSTOMER SERVICE

Zanzibar is fast becoming one of the leading holiday destinations in East Africa. A good number of visitors doing a safari tour are choosing to include Zanzibar and Pemba extensions in their itineraries. Our sales for Zanzibar have been increasing and we had to have our own operations and customer service staff on the main island of Zanzibar to look after our valued guests there. Our responsibility is to coordinate all ground, air and sea transportation, as well as guests’ accommodation and excursion needs on the islands.
“Eternal, enchanting, stunning, endless…” These are some of the superlatives used to describe the natural beauty of Tanzania. The largest of the East African countries, Tanzania is considered one of Africa’s showpieces of stability, displaying a unique climate of peace and tranquility. Over the past few years, we are witnessing a growing interest by incentive organisers in Tanzania, as a destination. This is probably a direct result of the increased awareness and concern over nature conservation in the world. Often rated as one of the most enchanting wildlife destinations in Africa, Tanzania comes easily on to the fingertips of the buyers of tour programmes focused on nature observation and recreation. The game parks are pure and the people are friendly. Tanzania is undoubtedly the ultimate incentive destination of the future for rendezvous with nature. Tanzania also boasts of some of the finest beaches on its 850-kilometre coastline, and around the beautiful Islands of Zanzibar and Mafia.

The setting of the product is excellent, right from the breathtaking game parks to the idyllic Islands on the warm waters of the Indian Ocean. This natural endowment is perfected by the rich cultural heritage of over 120 tribes of Bantu, Bushmen, Nilotic and Cushitic origins, and visitors from far continents of Asia and Europe, each with their own distinct customs. The accommodation facilities are modern and adequate, with those in the game parks built to blend into the scenic natural landscapes.

Leopard Tours is one of the leading Destination Management Companies (DMC) in Tanzania with the requisite expertise and equipment including a fleet of specially designed motor vehicles with comprehensive back-up facilities, for hosting a wide range of events. Our many years of experience, coupled with in-depth knowledge of the destination and attention to details, invariably guarantee a seamless on-site management of events – starting from planning choice of venue, site inspection, price negotiation with suppliers, actual operation of events, to billing and after sales services. Our key leverage include unrivalled buying power based on volume of business we produce to suppliers, and experienced professionals eager to innovate and create to ensure excellent results and success. The vision is to make Leopard Tours a natural choice in Tanzania for MICE planners.

Typical incentive groups’ itineraries include a safari tour in the game parks, with probably a few days on the coast, or the “Spice Islands” of Zanzibar. On to this, a few pleasant surprises are sprinkled here and there like bush breakfasts, tribal dances, pool side parties, theme evenings, and barbecues on the beach or in the bush, to make the product exciting and memorable. Leopard Tours’ Incentive Department can take care of all the special details required for a successful trip including arrangements for distribution of logo branded items to ensure the company’s identity is prominent throughout the safari. We can also arrange guest lecturers for your group as well as a broad range of audio-visual equipment to facilitate meetings and presentations.
INCENTIVES OPTIONS

Bush Breakfast - after an early morning game drive.

Bush Lunch / Barbecue - in the national park or game reserve under a shade.

Tribal and traditional dances - to grace cocktails and entertain diners.

African Night / Buffet - night of African dresses like Khangas and Kanzus, local specialty menus accompanied by colourful shows of traditional dancing around a crackling log fire.

Coastal / Swahili Buffets - menus with freshly caught seafood from the Indian Ocean or Swahili spicing and inland tribal cuisine.

Local Village Visits - visits to native communities and lectures on the local tribes.

With their sharp eyes, the warriors notice every movement and your guides will point out the interesting landscape, medicinal plants, and many special birds that live in this semi-arid area.

NOTE: Please ask for a separate brochure for Incentives, Meetings & Conferences for more details about these products.
The idea of starting a camping safari unit had been on our minds since the inception of Leopard Tours in 1985. We were quite aware that camping safaris have some special appeal to a lot of people, particularly amongst nature enthusiasts visiting our game parks. Our biggest concern then was outfitting - sourcing the right equipment and qualified personnel for the project. There was also the need to do some little research, both on the operational side of the product as well as on possible responses from buyers.

So when Leopard Tours first started operating camping safari tours in 1997, the plan was to keep it small in anticipation of start-up challenges usually associated with new projects. Our first product was budget camping, modest and neat, in keeping with Leopard Tours tradition and commitment in delivering a thoroughly researched product. We did budget camping for one year, very successfully, before moving on to a higher level of standard camping, in direct response to the market.

BUDGET CAMPING

Budget camping is the ideal way for those who like to “rough it”. Accommodation is provided in a public campsite in a two-man tent furnished with folding safari beds, mattresses, blankets, bed sheets and pillows. The tents are spacious enough for two twin beds and have a mesh on each window to keep off insects.

The guests’ safari vehicle, invariably a 4-wheel drive (4x4), manned by a driver-guide experienced in camping and accompanied by your cook, tows a custom-built trailer carrying camping equipment and provisions. All preparations for setting up the camp are made on arrival at the campsite. Guests may help pitch the tents as part of the adventure experience, but the cooking and cleaning is all left to the crew - cook and driver-guide. The cook prepares three meals a day - breakfast, and 3-course lunch and dinner served on a foldable dining table with chairs. The public campsites provide basic washroom facilities including shared toilets and shower of reasonable hygienic standard for the guests.
STANDARD CAMPING

Standard Camping, our flagship camping product, is a very popular product in the northern Tanzania game parks. One of the most important features of this product is staying in a private and exclusive campsite, off the beaten track wilderness. The camping crew, together with equipment and provisions, travels separately in a support vehicle ahead of the guests, so that when you arrive at the campsite everything is prepared and waiting – tents up, meals cooking, and hot water ready for a shower.

Accommodation is provided in spacious walk-in tents with twin beds made of fine tropical wood, mattresses, blankets, bed sheets & pillows, and two foldable bedside tables. Wash room facilities are set on the far end, inside the guest tent, and include a hot water bucket-shower and a chemical toilet. Each accommodation tent has a hand washbasin, and a verandah with two safari chairs and a safari table allowing you to relax with a book, or just enjoy the different smells, sights and sounds around you.

The mess tent is spacious and well ventilated, with dining tables and chairs, cutlery, crockery, table cloth and other amenities offered in a standard restaurant. The camp serves three freshly cooked meals a day - breakfast, and 3-course lunch and dinner. Evenings at the campsite are invariably one of the highlights of a game park program, with a crackling campfire in a serene and quiet surrounding interrupted by occasional distant calls of wildlife. The experience of camping in an African bush, as pure as the Serengeti for example, is so special and fulfilling.
Since its inception, more than 30 years ago, Leopard Tours has been aware of the need of sharing benefits realized from our tour operations with the Tanzania community. Being a Tanzanian company, “born and raised in Tanzania”, we have the obligation to contribute to the wellbeing of the Tanzania community which we are part of. Over the years we have tried to quietly support the local community in our own small way, with no intention whatsoever for publicity. Our support was, and still is, directed towards healthcare, education, drinking water and the environment.

Healthcare
Leopard Tours has participated in building a dispensary in Moshi town on the foot of Mount Kilimanjaro about 80 kilometres from Arusha town. This dispensary is available for all in need of medical services, and for those who are completely unable to pay for their medical bills the dispensary is forwarding the bills to Leopard Tours. This is an arrangement which makes it possible for those disadvantaged to be able to access medical services at the dispensary.

Leopard Tours is in the mailing of most charity organisations and hospitals within the country, as we are involved in supporting individuals who seek and need medical attention both overseas and locally but are unable to pay for it. We have helped a number of Tanzanians, particularly those with heart ailments, to travel to India for surgery, paying for all their travel and medical expenses.

Education
Leopard Tours is supporting a few orphanages and individual orphans in Tanzania with their educational needs. We have a fund dedicated to this section of the population and to other underprivileged individual boys and girls whom we are paying for their education from primary school through to the university level.

Environment
Leopard Tours is dedicated to tree planting within Arusha town and we been awarded a certificate of recognition by the Municipality. We are doing this both to beautify the town and as our contribution in keeping the world green.

Leopard Tours Foundation
Building on our past community projects and as a way of commemorating 30 years since the founding of Leopard Tours Ltd, we have gone a step further and launched Leopard Tours Foundation in July 2015 to help us coordinate our philanthropic commitments. This is an independent organisation run by a Board of Trustees.

Leopard Tours Foundation has since overseen several projects in different parts of Tanzania. Among the projects which have been completed are the boreholes in Malindi, Kilwa and Kigoma for drinking water, and donation of desks for primary schools. The foundation is currently renovating the laboratory for HIV tests at the regional Mount Meru Hospital in Arusha.
The Northern Tourist Circuit

ARUSHA TOWN

Arusha, the gateway to the world famous game sanctuaries of Serengeti, Ngorongoro, Tarangire and Lake Manyara, is one of the oldest towns in Tanzania. From a tiny German garrison in 1900, Arusha has grown to become the tourist capital of Tanzania with a population of about 400,000 people. At 1390 metres above sea level, Arusha enjoys a very agreeable climate throughout the year. Positioned at the centre of Africa between the Cape and Cairo on the Great North Road, Arusha is the administrative seat of the East African Community made up of Tanzania, Kenya Uganda, Rwanda and Burundi. Arusha offers an excellent opportunity for authentic souvenirs shopping, including the bold Makonde carvings, and the colourful Tinga Tinga works and batiks.

Tanzanite, the native gemstone of Arusha, and one of the most beautiful and exciting gems to come from Africa, is sold in all gemstone shops in town alongside other locally mined stones like Ruby, Rhodolite and Tourmaline. Tanzanite was first discovered in 1967, some 40 kilometres to the southeast of Arusha at Mererani. To date Mererani remains the only commercially viable source for Tanzanite in the world. Tanzanite was named after Tanzania.

ARUSHA NATIONAL PARK

With an area of 542 sq km, Arusha National Park is one of the smaller and most beautiful National Parks in Tanzania. Situated only 37 km from Arusha town, the park is very popular for day trips. The Ngurdoto Crater, Momela Lakes, the highland montane forest, and the rugged Mount Meru (4566 m above sea level) are the four distinctive features of the park. Mt. Kilimanjaro, towering at 5895 m to the east, is visible on clear days from many locations in the park.

One of the unique attractions of the park is the opportunity to combine game drives and a nature walk in the many places where visitors can leave their safari vehicles and walk in the fresh air. The most common animals found in this park are the Abyssinian black and white colobus monkeys, the velvet monkeys, the red forest duikers, hippos, elephants, giraffes, buffaloes, bushbucks and sometimes the leopard. More than 400 species of birds have been recorded in the park including Eurasian migrants, which can be seen between October and April. Mount Meru 4566 m can be scaled in three to four days, with overnight accommodation in alpine huts on your way up and down.
"As wide as all the world, great, high and unbelievably white in the sun was the square top of Mount Kilimanjaro", wrote Ernest Hemingway of this highest mountain in Africa towering 5895 metres above sea level. Situated near the town of Moshi in northern Tanzania, Mount Kilimanjaro rises from the dry plains, through a wide belt of forest and high alpine heath to an almost bare desert and finally the snow capped summit, Uhuru Peak, just 3 degrees south of the Equator. One of the world’s highest free standing mountains, Mt. Kilimanjaro is composed of three extinct volcanoes: Kibo 5895 m (19340 ft), Mawenzi 5149 m (16896 ft), and Shira 3962 m (13000 ft).

The ascent of Kilimanjaro can be done from six routes: Mweka, Umbwe, Shira, Rongai, Machame, and the Marangu Route which is the easier one and most popular. Depending on which route one wants to use, the climb of Kilimanjaro can take between four nights to six nights on the mountain. The two most popular routes are Marangu and Machame. On the Marangu Route, accommodation is in alpine huts while on Machame Route it is camping throughout. While expert guides and porters will accompany you on your climb, no technical equipment is required on these routes.
MKOMAZI NATIONAL PARK

Bordering Kenya’s Tsavo West National Park in northeastern Tanzania, Mkomazi, which was commissioned as a Game Reserve in 1951, was gazetted a National Park in 2008. Located to the east of Pare Mountains near Same town, about 190kms from Arusha, Mkomazi National Park, with an area of 3276 sq km, lies along the edge of a semi-arid savanna arc that stretches into Kenya’s Tsavo West, falling into the Mkomazi-Tsavo Ecosystem, which is the second largest trans-boundary ecosystem in East Africa after the famous Serengeti–Masai Mara. As a national park, Mkomazi has the potential to develop into a glorious sanctuary where visitors will have the opportunity to explore more of the Tanzania’s hidden natural treasures.

Umba River on Mkomazi’s south eastern border and other water holes keep the park teeming with small and large mammals, including silver backed jackal, lion, cheetah, leopard, giraffe, buffalo, elephant and zebra, with the rare gerenuk, lesser kudu and fringe-eared oryx easily sighted. There is a sanctuary for the endangered black rhino and another one for the wild dog created within the national park to protect these rare species. The Mkomazi Rhino Sanctuary has attained international renown for rehabilitating rhino, and it offers viewing and educational opportunities for visitors. Mkomazi is a fascinating destination for bird watchers, boasting more than 450 avian species including some Eurasian migratory species.

Quite a few activities can be conducted in Mkomazi, including game drives, walking safaris, mountain hikes and bird watching. Mkomazi can be visited throughout the year, with late June to early September best for large mammal and bird watching. Mkomazi National Park smoothly fits into the Arusha - Usambara - Tanga – Pangani - Saadani – Dar es Salaam / Zanzibar circuit, or may be visited as a single destination from Arusha or after Kilimanjaro climbing.

TARANGIRE NATIONAL PARK

Tarangire National Park lies 120 km south of Arusha, along The Great North Road highway, and is very popular for day trips from the town. Tarangire offers a wide variety of wildlife in its area of 2,850 sq. km. As in all ecosystems, the vegetation and the types of animals you find are closely correlated. The principal features of the park are the flood plains and the grassland, mainly comprising of various types of acacia trees, and a few scattered baobabs, tamarind and the sausage trees.

The Tarangire River, after which the park is named, provides the only permanent water for wildlife in the area. When the Maasai Steppes dry up with the end of the long rains in June, migratory animals return to the Tarangire River, making Tarangire National Park second only to Ngorongoro in the concentration of wildlife. This period stretches between June and October and it is the best season for game viewing in Tarangire. The most common animals found in the park include zebras, wildebeest, lions, leopards, waterbucks, giraffe, elephants, gazelles, impala, gerenuk, lesser kudu and the beautiful fringe-eared oryx. You may be lucky to spot the tree-climbing python, for which the park is famous, or the greater kudu and the roan antelope which are rare species in Northern Tanzania. Over 550 bird species have been recorded in the Park.
LAKE MANYARA NATIONAL PARK
Located 125 km west of Arusha town, nestling by the wall of the Great Rift Valley, Lake Manyara National Park is one of the oldest and most popular sanctuaries in East Africa. The park has a large variety of habitats, making it possible to support a wealth of wildlife in its small area. The main habitats include the shallow soda lake itself which occupies 77% of the National Park total area of 330 sq. km, the ground water forest, open grassland, acacia woodland and the rift wall. The most famous spectacle in the park is the tree-climbing lions, which are occasionally seen along branches of acacia trees. Other animals found in the park include buffalo, elephants, leopards, baboons, impala, giraffes, zebra, wildebeest, ostrich and hippos. Popularly referred to as an ornithologist’s paradise, Lake Manyara National Park contains over 400 bird species found in most savanna and river habitats in East Africa.

NGORONGORO CONSERVATION AREA
A UNESCO protected World Heritage Site and an International Biosphere Reserve, the Ngorongoro Conservation Area is situated some 190 km. west of Arusha, between Lake Manyara and Serengeti National Parks. Covering approximately 8,292 square km, the Ngorongoro Conservation Area consists of the Ngorongoro Crater itself, the Olduvai Gorge and Nduhu, the Empakai crater and the Oldonyo Lengai Mountain. The Ngorongoro Conservation Area is a pioneering experiment in multi-purpose land use where people (the Maasai), their livestock and wildlife coexist and share the same protected habitat. Wild animals are protected as in the National Parks. The craters of Ngorongoro and Empakai are reserved exclusively for wildlife, while the rest of the Conservation Area is shared by wildlife, people and livestock. The Maasai, the main residents of Ngorongoro, are pastoralists who move widely with their herds of cattle, sheep, goat and donkeys in search of pasture and water. In recent years the Maasai have been encouraged to work on the land and supplement their traditional diet of milk and meat.

The Ngorongoro Crater, which is the central attraction in the area, is the largest Caldera in the world that has its walls intact. The Ngorongoro Crater floor, a sheer drop of 510 metres below the crater rim, has an area of 304 sq. km, with a diameter of 19 km. The sight of the Ngorongoro Crater is simply stunning. “It is impossible to give a fair description of the size and beauty of the Crater, for there is nothing with which one can compare it. It is one of the Wonders of the World...” once wrote Professor Bernhard Grzimek. The crater floor is home to tens of thousands of plains animals, including wildebeest, zebra, gazelles, elands, and a large predator population of lions, hyena and jackal which can all be viewed at close quarters. The rare black rhino can be viewed here, and if you are lucky you can see cheetah and the elusive leopard. The rainy season is between November and May. The altitude at the crater rim is about 2286 metres above sea level, and temperatures can get quite chilly in the evening, especially between May to September.
OLDUVAI GORGE

The Olduvai Gorge, popularly referred to as “The Cradle of Humankind”, is the site where in 1959 Dr. Louis Leakey discovered the skull of Zinjanthropus or “Nutcracker Man” believed to have lived 1.75 million years ago. Later reclassified as Australopithecus boisei, this creature had a massive skull though small brained (500 cc) with huge teeth. Several months later Dr. Leakey found another fossil hominid in the same layer of excavation, called Homo habilis or “handy man”, smaller than the “Nutcracker Man” but with a larger brain (600 cc) and capable of making simple stone tools.

NDUTU

Ndutu is located in the Ngorongoro Conservation Area, in the southeastern plains of the Serengeti ecosystem. The plains around Ndutu are the main holding ground for migratory animals where vast herds congregate and linger in the area for more than four months, from December to April, before they start moving across the Serengeti in search of greener pastures and water. Ndutu area forms an important part of the Serengeti ecosystem, in particular the short grass plains which provide calving grounds for wildebeest and other migratory animals.
SERENGETI

A World Heritage Site and recently proclaimed a World Wide Wonder, Serengeti National Park is undoubtedly one of the most famous wildlife sanctuaries in the world. Covering an area of 14,763 sq km, Serengeti National Park is the largest National Park in Tanzania. The park is located some 320 km to the northwest of Arusha, lying in a high plateau between the Ngorongoro highlands and the Kenya/Tanzania border, and extending almost to Lake Victoria to the west. Aptly named “endless plains” by the Maasai people, you immediately experience this vastness as you enter the southeastern plains of the park from Ngorongoro.

Declared a protected area in 1921 and gazetted as a National park in 1951 Serengeti is the oldest National Park in Tanzania, The principal features of the Serengeti are the short and long grass plains in the south and east, the acacia Savannah in the central areas, the hilly and densely wooded areas in the north and the extensive woodland in the west. There is a variety of scenery, which include the plains, lakes, hills and the rock outcrops called kopjes. The main game drive areas in the Serengeti are the Seronera Valley, the Western Corridor, and Lobo or northern Serengeti. The Seronera valley in central Serengeti, endowed with permanent surface water, attract a large concentration of wildlife throughout the year. Common animals that can be seen here are lions, buffaloes, impalas, hippos, waterbucks, elephants, cheetahs and the leopard.

From December to April, southeastern Serengeti plains provide the best opportunities for game viewing as hundreds of thousands of the migratory animals are concentrated in this part attracted by the short palatable grass. Between May and July, when drought sets in, Serengeti is the site of one of the most breathtaking events in the animal kingdom - the migration of thousands of wildebeest heading southwest, north or west in search of water and greener pastures. The Lobo area remains rich in wildlife during the dry months of August to November when most of the game has moved from the grass plains in the south. This is also true of the Western Corridor towards Lake Victoria when the migration usually lingers in the area between June and July. Serengeti provides sanctuary to the highest concentration of plains animals in the world. Survey estimates indicate an animal population of over 4 million including 3,000 lions, 1,600,000 wildebeest, 300,000 Thomson’s and Grant’s gazelle, 500,000 zebras. There are over 400 species of birds in the Serengeti.
Coastal and Southern Circuit

DAR ES SALAAM CITY

Dar es Salaam, meaning The Haven of Peace in Arabic, has one of the best deep natural harbours in the world. From a small Swahili town in the middle of the 19th century, Dar es Salaam has grown into a large metropolitan centre with a population of over 3,500,000 dwellers. The city population represents the over 120 tribes of Tanzania with their different cultural backgrounds coming together, alongside the oriental civilizations from the far and middle east, and the Europeans including early Portuguese visitors in the 16th Century, the Germans and later the British. All cultures at one time or another passed through Dar es Salaam. It is necessary to visit Dar es Salaam to appreciate the secret of letting different cultures live together in absolute harmony.

Being the commercial capital of Tanzania, Dar es Salaam is also the main gateway to the nature reserves of southern Tanzania, which include the Selous Game Reserve and the National Parks of Mikumi, Ruaha and Udzungwa Mountains, Saadani and Kitulo. It also serves as a convenient connection for travel to the islands of Mafia, Zanzibar and Pemba both by sea and air. A city tour of Dar es Salaam will take you to the National Museum, Nyerere Cultural Centre, the Village Museum, Mwenge Wood Carvings Market, and the Magogoni Fish Market, among other interesting spots.

BAGAMOYO

Some 75 kilometres to the north of Dar es Salaam lies Bagamoyo, once the embarkation port for slaves from the hinterland, and later the first German colonial capital. It is a place of considerable significance to world history, both as an entry point for Arab and European missionaries, explorers, and traders in East and Central Africa, and in the history of the infamous slave trade. Fortunately Bagamoyo is now being considered for inclusion as one of the World Heritage sites, to conserve and protect the fascinating Gothic and Afro-Arabic architecture in this coastal settlement steeped in history. Tourist attractions include the Kaole ruins dating back to the 12th century thought to mark one of the earliest contacts of Islam with Africa; the Old Fort built in 1860 for holding slaves for shipment to Zanzibar; the first Roman Catholic Church in East Africa built around 1868 used as a base to run a camp of about 650 freed slaves; the German colonial administration headquarters, the Boma, in the first capital of German East Africa; the Mission Museum displaying history of Bagamoyo; and the Livingstone Memorial Church among others. Bagamoyo white sand beaches are considered some of the finest on the whole of the East African coast.
SAADANI NATIONAL PARK

Located only 130 km north of Dar es Salaam and directly to the west of Zanzibar Island, Saadani is the only coastal wildlife sanctuary in East Africa, which not only means relaxing on Indian Ocean beaches after each safari, but provides the opportunity to observe Africa’s big game and birdlife interacting with the sea. Gazetted a National Park in 2002, Saadani measuring about 1100 sq. km in size, has a diverse population of mammals and birds. Elephant, leopard, lion, buffalo, giraffe, wildebeest, zebra, colobus monkey, hippo, crocodile and the rare Roosevelt sable can be seen here. Saadani offers a choice of a driving safari, nature walk, and boat safari on the Wami River.

PANGANI

The name Pangani is derived from the river that runs through the northern part of this historical town flowing from the slopes of Mt. Kilimanjaro. Located about 50 km South of Tanga town, Pangani has a remarkable history dating back to the 15th century and traces of old buildings and monuments still can be seen. It was a trading port dealing mainly with ivory and slaves. Several historical sites, in and around the town, serve as reminders of the strong Arabic influence, and the much later German and British colonial era in Tanganyika. Currently Pangani is mainly a fishing town providing beautiful beaches with coconut trees. Located less than 20 km to the south are excellent accommodation facilities for visitors.

For someone looking for a quiet vacation and an experience of African culture untouched by modern tourism, Pangani could be the place. A walking tour through the town would include visits to some historical buildings of colonial and traditional Swahili architecture some over 200 years old, a former slave labor camp and slave market site where Arabs traded slaves to India and Arabia; the Freedom Grounds; Islamic and German graves; ancient mosques and traditional houses. One will also see the street "carpet" makers, woodcarvers, basket weavers, painters and other artisans sell a wide variety of hand made cultural items. Other places of interest in Pangani include the Pangani River itself rich in bird life, the palm fringed sandy bay, and Maziwe Island (sandbank) Marine Reserve offering excellent waters for snorkeling.

SELOUS GAME RESERVE

The Selous Game Reserve, with an area of about 55,000 sq. km, is the largest well-watered wildlife sanctuary in Africa, and one of the largest protected areas in the world. Its size is simply stunning, bigger than Switzerland, uninhabited and little touched by human interference. It is perhaps the most pristine wilderness still remaining in Africa, with a wide variety of wildlife habitats, including open grasslands, Acacia and miombo woodlands, swamps and riverine forests in the many tributaries of the mighty Rufiji River. which flows through the reserve. Due to its unique ecological importance, it was designated a World Heritage Site by the United Nations in 1982. Its wildlife is spectacular, with some of its mammal and reptile populations the largest in Africa, namely buffaloes, elephants, hippos, wild dogs and crocodiles. Other wildlife include the wildebeest, impala, waterbuck, zebra, eland, the greater kudu, sable antelopes, giraffe, baboon, the vervet and blue monkeys, and the black and white colobus monkey which can be seen in certain riverine forests moving from tree to tree in family groups. There is a large population of predators including lions, leopards, cheetah and the spotted hyena, and about 440 species of birds in the Selous, of both resident and migratory birds. Named after Captain Frederick Courtney Selous, a legendary 19th century naturalist, explorer and hunter, Selous Game Reserve was founded in 1905.

Selous is situated in the southern part of Tanzania, bordered by Mikumi National Park to the northwest and by Udzungwa Mountains National Park and Kibasira Swamp to the west. The greater part of northern Selous is reserved for photographic safaris, and it is one of the most beautiful and game rich areas in the whole ecosystem.

The Selous wilderness meets the kind of dream visitors have of Africa of the early European explorers like Dr. Livingstone and Henry Stanley. The Reserve offers a wider variety of game viewing opportunities to the visitor, including the thrilling experience of a foot safari through game inhabited bushes in the company of an armed ranger. The many waterways in the Reserve provide an excellent natural setting for boat safaris, both for game viewing and bird watching. This is in addition to the game drives in 4X4 motor vehicles which, combined with boat and walking safaris, offer an exciting and richer game viewing itinerary unique to the Selous Game Reserve. The best time to visit the Selous is from June to October. During the long rains, between March and May, some parts of the Selous become impassable and are temporarily closed for game drives.
MIKUMI NATIONAL PARK

Sharing a common border and ecosystem with Selous Game Reserve to the south, Mikumi National Park is only three to four hours drive from Dar es Salaam, lying astride the main highway to Zambia, and en route to the National Parks of Udzungwa Mountains, Ruaha and Kitulo. The main feature of the park is the Mikumi flood plain, along with the mountain ranges that border the park on two sides. Open grasslands dominate in the flood plain, eventually merging with the miombo woodland covering the lower hills. Mikumi National Park covers an area of 3,230 sq km, and is rich in wildlife including buffalo, wildebeest, zebra, lion, elephant, impala, hippos, baboon, giraffe, warthog, waterbuck and eland which can be viewed throughout the year. Reptiles including crocodile, monitor lizard and python are also resident in the park. Other animals that can be sighted although rare are the Sable Antelope resident in the southern part of the park bordering the Selous, the Greater Kudu, leopard, and the wild dog also known as the African Hunting Dog. More than 400 bird species have been recorded, including European migrants during the rainy season.

Mikumi National Park is one the most popular visitor points sold from our Dar es Salaam branch office. Being close to Dar es Salaam on good road, day trips are popular especially for those who have little time to spend an overnight there. But it is recommended to spend at least a night in Mikumi to enjoy a fulfilling game drive in this beautiful park. A number of accommodation facilities are available in Mikumi.
RUHA NATIONAL PARK

Ruaha National Park takes its name from the Ruaha River, which flows along its southeastern border. The river provides permanent water in the park, and during the dry season animal concentration along its banks is spectacular. Ruaha National Park is about two to three hours drive from Iringa, a famous town on the Dar es Salaam to Zambia highway. Covering an area of 20,226 square kilometers, Ruaha is the largest National Park in Tanzania. Its borders were extended in 2008 to include Usangu Game Reserve to protect the Ihefu wetlands and the Great Ruaha River catchment areas and biodiversity.

This unspoilt wilderness is rich in flora and fauna, and contains a wide variety of animals that includes Greater and Lesser Kudu, roan and sable antelopes, which are rarely seen in most other game parks especially in Northern Tanzania. Ruaha National Park is famous for its herds of elephant and buffaloes. The Ruaha River, which plays an important role in the ecosystem of the park, provides sanctuary to a large number of hippos and crocodiles. During the dry season the river attracts great quantities of game including lions, leopard, hunting or wild dog, impala, waterbuck, warthog, giraffe, and elands. In the plains ostriches, cheetahs and Grants Gazelles can be seen. The park is rich in bird life throughout the year, with over 550 bird species recorded. The best time for game viewing is during the dry season, from May to December. During the wet months from January to April some tracks may impassable, but the park is a display of lush scenery with more than 1600 species of trees, wildflowers, and is excellent for bird-watching.

UDZUNGWA MOUNTAINS NATIONAL PARK

Harbouring one of East Africa's great forests, Udzungwa Mountain National Park has an area of 1990 sq km, bordered by the Great Ruaha River to the north, with Mikumi National Park and Selous Game Reserve located further to the north and east. Protected as a national forest reserve until 1992 when it was commissioned as National Park, Udzungwa Mountains is undoubtedly one of the few true virgin and unique forested lands remaining in the world. The major attractions include its biologically diverse forest, harbouring some plant species found nowhere else in the world, from a tiny African violet to 30-metre high trees. Apart from the forest, which acts as a water catchment area and having a large number of endemic species of both animals and plants, the park has spectacular mountains scenery, grasslands, rocks, rivers and waterfalls. One of the most interesting sights is the presence of two indigenous species of primates, the Iringa red colobus monkey and the Sanje Crested Mangabey, not known until 1979. Apart from providing habitat to about six species of primates, its plateau contains populations of elephants, buffalos, lions, leopards, African hunting dogs and several forest bird species.

Walking safaris to the Sanje River waterfalls (170 metres) is one of the popular activities in this park. Usungwa Mountains can conveniently be combined with game drives in nearby Mikumi National Park, an hour’s drive to the north, or be included in the Ruaha National Park (4-5 hours drive) and Selous Game Reserve itineraries. The park can be visited throughout the year although it is a bit slippery during the wet rainy season. The dry season extends from June to October. The park has more than 400 species of butterflies.

KITULO NATIONAL PARK

Perched at around 2600 meters above sea level between the rugged peaks of the Kipengere, Poroto and Livingstone mountains, the well-watered volcanic soils of Kitulo support the largest and most important montane grassland community in Tanzania. Referred by locals as The Garden of God, Kitulo National Park is “one of the great floral spectacles of the world”, a rare botanical marvel and home to 350 species of vascular plants, including 45 varieties of terrestrial orchid, which erupt into a riotous wildflower display of breathtaking scale and diversity during the main rainy season of late November to April. One of the most important watersheds for the Great Ruaha River, Kitulo is also the first national park in tropical Africa to be gazetted largely for its floral significance—not only a multitude of orchids, but also the stunning yellow-orange red-hot poker and a variety of aloes, proteas, geraniums, giant lobelias, lilies and aster daisies, of which more than 30 species are endemic to southern Tanzania. But Kitulo is also attractive for bird watching, home to rare bird species. Big game is sparsely represented, though a few hardy mountain reedbuck and eland still roam the open grassland.

Located about 100 kilometres from Mbeya town in Southern Tanzania, Kitulo National Park (413 sq km) is a botanist and hiker’s paradise. Wild flowers displays peak during the rainy season between December and April excellent time for botanists, while the sunnier months of September to November are more comfortable for hiking but less rewarding to botanists. Conditions are cold and foggy from June to August. Accommodation is available in Mbeya town.

MAFIA ISLAND

Located 120km or a 20 minute flight south of Dar es Salaam, Mafia Island is one of the most exciting diving and fishing areas in the world. The major tourist activities are scuba diving, big game fishing, snorkeling, beach and offshore excursions; it is a paradise for fishermen, divers and water sport lovers. The water is beautifully transparent with fantastic views of the unspoiled coral reef; the variety of the coral permits an unimaginable quantity of fish, with diving and snorkeling sites just a short boat ride away. Chole Bay and its surrounding forests and islands are now within the protected Mafia Island Marine Park.

With its fine sandy beaches, swaying palms and lush vegetation, Mafia is the ideal spot to relax and unwind after a great African safari. Isolated islets and beaches, lagoons, coves and channels provide many private swimming and picnicking hideaways. Chole Bay is perfect for windsurfing and laser sailing. Birdlife is excellent and very different to the mainland parks that guests may have visited. The tidal flats and mangroves are always alive with coastal and sea birds and there are many colourful woodland and forest species.
ZANZIBAR ISLANDS (UNGUJA & PEMBA)

Set like a jewel in tranquil coral waters, only 20 minutes flight from Dar es Salaam, is one of the world’s most beautiful islands - Zanzibar. Its name evokes a romantic past. To the shores of these islands came Summerians, Assyrians, Hindus, Egyptians, Phoenicians, Arabians, Chinese, Malaysians, and the Portuguese, all sailing in on Monsoon winds. From these shores the great European explorers Burton, Speke, Livingstone, Krapf, Rebman, and Grant set out on their voyages of discovery into the East and Central African hinterland.

The different races that have settled in Zanzibar over the centuries have left an imprint on the people and the architecture. The “House of Wonders” and the narrow streets of the Old Stone Town are just some of the vivid reminders of the islands long and coloured history. Zanzibar is also the birthplace of the fascinating Swahili culture with its elegant architecture, full of balconies, courtyards, hand-carved doors and mosques. For centuries the historic spice Islands of Zanzibar has evoked a mystical and magical dream. Fascinating history, exotic spices, sandy beaches and hospitable people... this is the enchantment of Zanzibar. Different excursions are arranged while in Zanzibar. These include taking visitors to spices plantations in the countryside where a variety of seasonal spices, tropical fruits and medicinal herbs are grown. Detailed description of the spices is given, and their uses in cooking and cosmetics. Guests will be fascinated by the sheer number of spices produced, and by their incredible value for many ailments. This is also the cheapest place to purchase spices and oil extracts. Zanzibar is popularly referred to as the - Spice Islands. Another popular excursion is the Zanzibar Stone Town Tour which is literary a travel into history of this old capital of the Omani Sultans. Other excursions will include the old slave caves in Mangapwani, the prison island, ruins of what was the palace of the Sultan Said, the old slave market and many other historical places.

Zanzibar is an archipelago consisting of two main islands of Unguja (also referred to as Zanzibar) and Pemba, and several other surrounding small islets. Pemba island is located about 80km from Zanzibar Island (Unguja), about the same distance directly east of Tanga on the Tanzanian mainland. With its hilly landscape and altitude not exceeding 100 metres above sea level at its highest point, Pemba Island is by size smaller and a less known destination than Unguja. Named “The Green Island” by the early Arab sailors due to her dense and lush vegetation, Pemba has more natural forests, plantations and grows more cloves than her sister island of Zanzibar (Unguja) to the south. The interesting point about Pemba is its wealth of natural resources ranging from beaches to mangrove ecosystems to natural forests. The coral reefs surrounding the island protect a massive amount of marine species and offer some of the best diving spots in the world. While much of the coast is lined with mangroves, there are a few amazing stretches of shoreline and enough attractive offshore islands with pure, clean beaches and exciting bird-life.
KIGOMA

Kigoma town is situated on the shores of the world’s longest and second deepest lake, Lake Tanganyika. Only 10 km from Ujiji where journalist Henry Morton Stanley found the ailing Dr. David Livingstone and greeted him with the immortal words “Dr. Livingstone, I Presume”, Kigoma town is the main gateway to the remote Gombe Stream and the Mahale Mountains National Parks in western Tanzania.

GOMBE STREAM NATIONAL PARK

Gombe Stream National Park is situated in the western border of Tanzania, and is easily accessible by boat from Kigoma town which is 16 km to the south. With an area of only 52 sq km, Gombe Stream is one of the smallest National Parks in Tanzania, comprising a narrow strip of mountainous country bounded in the east by the crest of the Great Rift Valley escarpment, and in the west by Lake Tanganyika, the world’s longest and second deepest at 1400 meters deep.

Gombe Stream, like its sister game park of Mahale Mountains to the south, is a park without roads, where you can experience nature on foot accompanied by the park guide. The park’s vegetation varies from the evergreen forests of tall trees to open woodlands and grasslands. The park’s most special feature is its chimpanzees, made famous by Jane Goodall’s study. Chimpanzees are classed as one of the world’s endangered species, and is the primary visitor attraction in Gombe. Other common mammals found are forest species, mostly primates including baboons, blue monkeys, vervet monkeys, red tailed monkeys and red colobus monkeys. There are more 200 species of birds in Gombe Stream National Park.

MAHALE MOUNTAINS NATIONAL PARK

Mahale Mountains National Park lies 120 km south of Kigoma town, on a peninsula in Lake Tanganyika on the western border of Tanzania. The park has an area of 1613 sq km and is dominated by the Mahale Mountains Chain running from north-west to south-east across the middle of the park, the highest peak, Mount Nkungwe, rising 2,462 meters above sea level. Its western boundary protects not only 63 kms of lakeshore but also the adjacent 1.6 km-wide strip of coastal waters. The park vegetation is mainly Miombo woodland with narrow strips of riverine forests, some rain forest and savannah which provide habitat to a variety of animal species. Mahale Mountains like its northerly neighbour Gombe Stream, is home to some Africa’s last remaining wild chimpanzees, with an estimated population of about 800, found in the rain forests of Mahale together with other rain forest animals including the Angolan colobus monkey and other primates. Species found in Miombo woodland include roan antelopes, sable antelopes and lichtenstein hartebeest, while the savannah provide habitat to warthogs, giraffes, grant’s zebras, hyenas and lions. About 82 species of mammals have been recorded in Mahale, a remote road-free park accessible only by boat or light aircraft. The park is rich in bird life with over 350 bird species recorded. Mahale is bordered to the west by Lake Tanganyika, the world’s longest, second deepest and perhaps least-polluted freshwater lake, which harbour a variety of fish species, with about 250 species found nowhere else on earth. Mahale offers a variety of attractions for visitors, from tracking wild habituated chimpanzees, to mountain climbing, snorkeling, fishing, kayaking and relaxing on pristine, white, sandy beaches of Lake Tanganyika.
KATAVI NATIONAL PARK

Covering an area of 4471 sq km, Katavi National Park is located about 40km from Mpanda town in southwest Tanzania, to the east of Lake Tanganyika, lying within a truncated arm of the Great Rift Valley that terminates in the shallow expanse of Lake Rukwa.

A true wilderness and seldom visited, Katavi is famous for its undisturbed natural face compared to other parks in the country. The main vegetation of the park is Miombo woodland with scattered Acacia trees near Lake Chada. The main focus for game viewing within the park is the Katuma River and associated floodplains such as the seasonal Lakes Katavi and Chada. During the rainy season, these lush, marshy lakes are a haven for myriad water birds, and they also support Tanzania’s densest concentrations of hippo and crocodile. During the dry season, when the flood waters retreat, Katuma River forms the only source of drinking water for miles around, and the flanking floodplains support game concentrations that defy belief. An estimated 4,000 elephants might converge on the area, together with several herds of 1,000-plus buffalo, while an abundance of giraffe, zebra, impala and reedbuck provide easy pickings for the numerous lion prides and spotted hyena clans whose territories converge on the floodplains. Also to be seen are elands and the rare sable and roan antelopes.
LEOPARD - Leopards are solitary animals, the male only associating with female when she is in season. The Leopard is active by day and night, but where hunted, it remains very secretive and nocturnal. Leopards are traditionally one of the most dangerous of the wild cats. Its sense of hearing is exceptional. Whereas the cheetah hunts by speed, the leopard catches its prey by careful, stealthy stalking. The leopard sleeps in trees and among rocks and can be seen in all National Parks and game reserves.

LION - Rarely alone, lions usually live in family groups. Lions have very good sight, a sharp sense of hearing and good sense of scent. Lions usually hunt at night but you may be lucky enough to see a kill during the day. Lions normally hunt as a team, by stealthily stalking their prey, crouching low to the ground before rushing for the kill when close enough. Weighing up to 200kg, a lion is exceptionally strong and can bring down a large animal like a buffalo that is four times its weight. Lions can be observed in most of the Tanzania game parks.

CHEETAH - The cheetah, sometimes mistaken for a leopard, is a more lightly built animal, distinguished easily by dark “tear marks.” Female cheetahs are always solitary but males sometimes form groups of two or three. Cheetahs are specialised predators relying on a concealed approach to prey, followed by a swift chase, reaching up to 110kmph. Cheetahs rely primarily on eyesight and speed and do not hunt at night. Unlike the lion, they do not hunt jointly. The typical habitat is open plains like the Serengeti.

BUFFALO - Buffaloes can be seen in mixed breeding herds or in small all-male groups of old bulls or sometimes alone. They are entirely grazers, but generally avoid the open grass plains, preferring the bush country for shade during the day, and are especially fond of wallowing. They are rarely found far from water, as they also need to drink regularly. Buffaloes weigh up to 800 kgs and carry massive, heavily bossed horns. If lions are bold enough to approach a herd, the bulls form a ring with the cows and calves in the centre and usually drive the lions away. Their sense of smell is very good, while hearing and sight are moderate.

FLAMINGOES - Flamingoes are migratory birds, with unpredictable movements, arriving in hundreds of thousands. Lesser flamingos are smaller than the greater flamingos, and their plumage, with colour resulting from their diets, are much pinker. Flamingos are common in soda lakes such as Natron, Manyara and in the Crater.

RHINOCEROS - Rhinos are usually solitary as adults. The most stable association is that of a mother and calf which are can be seen in Tanzania, are browsers and have pointed prehensile lips adapted for browsing off thorny shrubs. They feed at night, dawn, and dusk, resting during the heat of the day. They have a good sense of hearing and and largest animal acts as the leader, particularly during defence when she will govern the course of action.

WILDEBEEST - Wildebeest live in large herds and are good grazers. Large concentrations quickly exhaust a pasture and so wildebeest aggregations have to keep moving, a phenomenon which is very pronounced in the Serengeti. In the Serengeti, the migration is a continuous quest for greener pastures and water, taking the wildebeest over an annual circuit of 800 kms. They have excellent sense of sight and hearing. Wildebeest have many predators, including lions, cheetahs, hunting dogs and hyenas.

OSTRICH - The Ostrich is the world’s largest bird and the only flightless bird native to Africa. Males are black and white, with naked necks and thighs. Ostriches are very fast runners and are able to maintain their pace for a considerable time. This together with the ability to swerve sharply enables them to outwit predators.

ELEPHANTS - Elephants are the largest living land mammals, weighing up to 6 tons. Daily food requirements, depending on body size is 100 to 200kg and they can live up to 60 years. Like the lion, the social system of the elephant is based on close family kin. Daughters remain in the same family as their mothers and grandmothers whilst males leave once they reach adolescence. Senses of scent and hearing are very good and sight is moderate. If you watch a female herd you may be able to spot the matriarch. Usually this oldest and largest animal acts as the leader, particularly during defence when she will govern the course of action.

GIRAFFE - Giraffe feed almost exclusively on the tender leaves of acacia trees and they are rarely seen anywhere but in areas where these trees grow. For all its great length, the giraffe’s neck has only seven vertebrae, the same as man. A male giraffe weighs about 800kg and stands three and half meters at the shoulders and about 6 metres at the crown. Giraffes have good eyesight (over 1 km) and can distinguish colours. They protect their young from lions by powerful kicks. Giraffe walk with a characteristic gait that brings both limbs on the same side forward together.
Air Options

DOMESTIC AIR TRANSPORT

There are daily scheduled flights linking key tourist gateways to various destinations and popular locations in Tanzania, including the game parks and the islands of Zanzibar, Pemba and Mafia. Leopard Tours has agreements with local air transportation companies, operating charter and scheduled flights, to guard against unnecessary price fluctuations. Most game parks and towns have air strips accessible by smaller planes.

INTERNATIONAL AIRLINES

Kilimanjaro International Airport (JRO), located less than 50 minutes drive from Arusha and Moshi towns in northern Tanzania, is served by international carriers including KLM Royal Dutch Airlines, Qatar Airways, Turkish Airlines, Kenya Airways and Ethiopian Airlines which also fly to Dar es Salaam. Visitors to the southern parks, the beaches and Zanzibar may use a number of international airlines that service Julius Nyerere International Airport (JNIA) formerly Dar es Salaam International Airport. Zanzibar is now a major destination and is also served by international air carriers. Visitors combining Kenya and Tanzania and arriving via Nairobi may use Jomo Kenyatta International Airport (JKIA) where there are daily flights connecting to Kilimanjaro (JRO), Dar es Salaam (JNIA) and Zanzibar. And for visitors preferring to travel overland from Nairobi to northern Tanzania game parks, Leopard Tours would be pleased to arrange a suitable road transfer for them.

BALLOON SAFARIS IN SERENGETI AND TARANGIRE

A popular addition to your stay in the Serengeti or Tarangire National Parks is a balloon safari. Launching at dawn, your balloon rises as the sun rises, floating gently over the savannah and wildlife. The flight takes about an hour, and on landing you will be met with a traditional champagne celebration and served an Out of Africa bush breakfast prepared at the site. Thereafter continue with game drives and day’s planned activities.
LAKE NDUTU LUXURY TENTED LODGE

Location: Lake Ndutu Luxury Tented Lodge is located within the Ngorongoro Conservation Area, in the southeastern plains of the Serengeti ecosystem, some 5 kilometres or 15 minutes drive from Ndutu airstrip, and about 300 kilometres or 5 hours drive / 1 hour flight from Arusha town.

Ndutu is the only place in the Serengeti ecosystem where migratory animals - wildebeest and zebras - roam for more than 5 months, attracting a high concentration and variety of predators. It is the main holding ground, with the short grass plains in Ndutu and southeastern Serengeti providing the necessary calving grounds for zebras and wildebeest, which usually give birth to thousands of calves and foals between January and March.

The lodge is also conveniently situated close to the prime game viewing areas of Seronera valley in the central Serengeti about 80kms (1 ½ hours drive), nearby Moru in southern Serengeti, and the world famous Ngorongoro Crater 90kms (2 hours drive) to the east.

Accommodation: Lake Ndutu Luxury Tented Lodge is made up of 20 accommodation tents including 2 family suites of 3 interconnected tents each, all resting on stilts and platforms elevated a metre from the natural ground. The luxurious tented rooms, all with wooden floor and nestling under makuti roofi ng for shade and protection against the elements, feature a large bedroom with floor-to-ceiling glass panels at the front affording guests a wide view from inside across the verandah to the natural surrounding bush.

Offering a true African safari experience with a unique blend of nature and luxurious living, the tents feature large beds with mosquito netting, bedside tables, rattan chairs with a coffee table, a writing desk with chair, luggage rack, a mini fridge, tea & coffee facilities, wardrobe, dressing table and hairdryer. Fresh colours and natural carvings with the traditional African culture as the central theme are used for interior decorations. The en-suite bathrooms include two hand wash basins, a flush toilet, and two separate showers (indoor and outdoor), all with hot and cold running water. All the tents are provided with 24 hours electricity and free Wi-Fi access; this is an eco-friendly lodge with solar power as the main source of electricity, supported by two standby generators and invertors.

Facilities & Services: Both the dining area and the lounge stand on raised platforms with wooden floors and makuti roofing, and feature a large outdoor terrace. The lodge chef will pleasantly surprise you with a wide selection of freshly cooked food, including local and international dishes.

In between the public areas there is a souvenir shop and a view deck with magnifying equipment. The reception with a seating area and two washrooms is set separately from the lounge and dining place.

Other facilities include the Maasai Boma, an enchanting facility introducing guests to the Maasai culture and designed for dining. The lodge chefs use the Boma to host social barbeque evenings under the stars, in a themed night with entertainment by local performers. Often the local Maasai would come and entertain guests with the traditional Maasai dance over a bonfire. The Boma was built by Maasai women from neighbouring villages to promote understanding and encourage a source of income for the local community.

There is a swimming pool which provides the much needed luxury for those who want to cool off after an early morning walking safari / game drive or before taking a late afternoon game drive. Elevated about 2.2 metres above ground level next to the lounge, the pool has a sweeping view of Lake Ndutu and the surrounding bush.

Lake Ndutu Luxury Tented Lodge offers game package services for visitors flying into Ndutu and wishing to use lodge open safari vehicles for transfers and game drives during their stay. Other activities available at the camp include nature walks, bush lunch, sundowners, a campfire, and balloon safaris which can be arranged from here.

ACCOMMODATION FACILITIES IN TANZANIA MAINLAND AND ZANZIBAR ISLANDS
Over the last 10 years Tanzania has seen so much development in accommodation facilities, spanning key tourist destinations in Tanzania mainland and the islands of Zanzibar, Pemba and Mafia, that we could not possibly include them all in this publication. For the sake of convenience and simplicity we have taken on board only the mainstream properties to keep this brochure less bulky and more distribution friendly. Unfortunately because of this we might end up not featuring many fine properties, including boutique facilities which are now much sought after in the market. Alongside this brochure, however, there will be a Compact Disc (CD) carrying accommodation facilities that we use for our guests and which will be updated from time to time to keep pace with the growth.
MBUZI MAWE SERENA CAMP
Location: Scenically set in an acacia glade embraced by kopjes, known as ‘the place of the klipspringer’, Mbuzi Mawe is located about 40km to the north of Seronera, on one of the main annual Serengeti migration corridors for hundreds of thousands of wildebeest, zebras and gazelles, and accompanying predators.
Accommodation: The Camp comprises of 16 widely spaced luxury tents, each standing on a stone platform, featuring a spacious private terrace with safari chairs and sun loungers. The main bedroom area features two queen-sized four-poster beds, each with all encompassing mosquito nets, and opening off the spacious bedroom is a tented bathroom, which features twin basins, shower and flushed WC. Other facilities include bathrobe & slippers, mineral water & toiletries, hairdryer, WiFi.
Facilities & Services: The central tented lounge features a stylish bar while the dining room is presented in classic tented style with a panoramic terrace looking out over the plains. Superior Suites which are located on the beach include in addition large queen sized beds with mosquito netting, 2 private terraces, large private plunge pool, open plan lounge, stonewalled bathroom with double vanity unit, walk-in shower, extra seating area, beachfront setting.

Facilities & Services: Fundu Lagoon’s main areas are open sided with thatch roofing. There are three bars, an open sided restaurant offering international cuisine, an infinity pool, and a calming fusion spa. Other facilities include a fully equipped PADI dive centre and a wide range of water sports including snorkeling, sunset cruises by dhow, canoe trips through pristine mangrove forests, fishing, water-skiing, windsurfing, kayaking, a satellite TV room, internet facility, pool table, darts, board games, a library of movies and books, Spa for massages and beauty treatments, a yoga platform overlooking the ocean. The ocean that surrounds Pemba features some of the best snorkeling and diving sites in the world.

The Aiyana is located on the northern most edge of Pemba Island - sister island of Zanzibar (Unguja), an area famous for its beautiful natural beaches, and close to the Ngezi Forest Reserve - the last remnants of a huge tract of indigenous forest which used to cover most of the island.

Accommodation: This unique resort has 30 beautifully appointed Villas, ranging from 80 – 160 sq metres in size. Each Villa, in pastel white colours, has high ceilings and wonderful views over the crystal-clear waters of the lagoon, the coral reef and the azure Indian Ocean beyond. The guest bathrooms are extensions of the hotel’s gardens, with showers open to the sky.

Facilities & Services: The Aiyana has a dining room serving a wide selection of international dishes but there are many options for private dining including the casual beach setting, under the Makuti umbrella or stars, in the landscaped bushels, at the white sandy beach or even at the island in front of the hotel. The Indian Ocean that surrounds Pemba offers some of the best snorkeling and diving sites in the world, with a water temperature averaging at 26°C and visibility of 30-40 meters. Shallow coral lagoons drop off to spectacular depths supporting a vast range of marine life. Experience Pemba’s traditional sailing through the handmade dhow carved from mango wood. Excursions can be organized to the nearby Ngezi Forest Reserve which is home to troops of velvet monkeys, and the Pemba Flying Fox, a bat endemic to the island. Pemba is a major world producer of cloves; tours to the spice farms can be arranged where you can see cloves, lemongrass, cinnamon, cardamom, nutmeg, black pepper and vanilla.

Chole Mjini is located on the island of Chole off the Southern tip of Mafia Island.

Accommodation: The lodge consists of only seven treehouses, carefully placed and designed, to ensure privacy. Each thatched platform is reached via sandy paths that lead through the natural vegetation, and features a king-size bed with mosquito net, and own private bathing area located below in the house “garden” - a slightly tamed area within the natural vegetation - in which the open-air shower as well as the closed composting toilet is situated. All have views of the sea and most treehouses have a second level to accommodate children.

Facilities & Services: The cuisine has a strong Swahili influence with delicate yet intense, flavoursome spicing, and the judicious use of coconut milk. Fish is freshly caught and delivered daily; vegetables are grown on the island. Other activities include scuba diving, snorkeling, swimming with whale sharks, watching turtle hatch, sandbank sunbathing and picnics, sunset sailing, excursions to Juani Island and other islets, massage, star gazing, strolling around Chole village, or relaxing at the Red Herring bar on the water’s edge with 270° sea views and 100% awesome sunset views.

Fanjove Private Island Lodge is part of the Songo Songo Archipelago, located 140km south of Dar es Salaam in the Indian Ocean, opposite Kilwa on Tanzania mainland.

Flights are available from Dar es Salaam to Songosongo, the main island of the archipelago, and from here some 45 minutes by dhow to Fanjove Island. The island is less than a kilometre long and was previously uninhabited, save for some local fishermen who used it as an occasional fishing base. Nobody lives on Fanjove except guests and the lodge staff. The lodge is open from June through March, and children are welcome from the age of 6 years and above.

Accommodation: There are only six Bandas (guest huts), each featuring an ensuite bathroom with a flushing toilet and solar heated shower open to the sky under the stars. The bandas are furnished with big beds with mosquito netting, a chest with lock and key, and are all powered by solar energy for lighting and heating water to minimise environmental impact on the island. The individual Bandas are distributed along the main beach to guarantee privacy, each with a view of the ocean.

The dhow-shaped Bandas are all made of wood from planted wood and makuti (palm leaves), only the bathroom is built in concrete but fitted in harmony with the rest of the building. The Bandas are designed to be completely open at the front to make the best of the view, with doors and curtains in different combinations at guests' convenience for protection from wind and sun. There is a balcony upstairs for guests wishing to enjoy the view from a higher point.

Facilities & Services: The lounge, bar and dining areas are almost invisible from the boat on arrival, shaded by the beach palms and built with natural materials blending with the island background. The lodge serves delicious meals of fusion cuisine reflecting the multicultural influence from the historical past of the area, dietary requirements can be accommodated with advance notice. Other facilities include charging point for electronic devices in dining area, laundry service, various water activities are available at the island, including snorkeling and diving in the crystal blue waters – equipment for snorkeling and diving are available at the lodge. Other activities include kayak safari, dhow sailing, sand bank excursions, Fanjove Island Trail, bird watching, fishing, and dolphin excursions. Location: Mwagusi Safari Camp is located along the banks of the Mwagusi River in Ruaha National Park, about 35km from the main park gate, 16km from Msembe airstrip and 120km or 3 hours drive from Iringa town.
Accommodation: Built mostly from natural materials such as grass thatch, timber, drift wood, stones and reeds perfectly blending with its surroundings, Mwagusi Safari Camp consists of 13 large spacious guest tents or bandas, each featuring ensuite facilities with flushing toilet, solar heated hot water, shower, sink, shelving, dressing table & mirror, trunk for storage, comfortable beds with high-density mattresses, safari style chairs & bedside tables for night-time reading, and a large covered verandah, with a comfortable cushioned seating area and swinging hammock, making this the perfect place to relax and view the passing wildlife.
Facilities & Services: Food is prepared fresh everyday in camp, using local produce supplied by nearby farmers and the nearest town market. Scrumptious evening meals are complemented by romantic candle-light under the blanket of African stars. Activities include game drives and walking safaris.

SELOUS IMPALA CAMP
Location: Selous Impala Camp is located in the eastern side of the photographic area of Selous Game Reserve, north of the Rufiji River, about 15 kilometres or a half hour drive from Mtemere Gate and the airstrip. It lies between lakes Mzizima and Siwandu in one of the richest game areas in Tanzania which attract a variety of wild animals and birds.
Accommodation: The Camp is made up of 8 tents, including 2 family tents and 6 double or twin tents, all set on high wooden deck with magnificent views of the river, or the lagoon and the forest beyond, and spread over a large area, ensuring maximum privacy. Each tent has a spacious veranda with chairs and table. The interiors are spacious, with hardwood flooring covered by hand-woven rugs, and furnished with two twin beds or one double bed. Behind the main bedroom is a dressing room with an open wardrobe with hangers and canvas shelves, and a vanity table with twin basins. Behind the dressing room is a power shower with hot & cold water and a cubicle with a flush WC. There is electric power in the tents with square three-pin 240v power sockets, a battery inverter supplying power in the hours of darkness, candles, and paraffin lamps in the dressing room and on the veranda.
Facilities & Services: The central public area overlooks the river and is a large and comfortable thatched low-slung building with wide verandahs. It is a relaxed open plan area with a well stocked bar, dining room and lounge with plenty of planters’ chairs and sofas so that you can sit and scan the river and banks for game, drink in hand. There is a swimming pool, and a raised fireplace area near the bar and restaurant, where you can enjoy a sundowner in the evening. Activities include game drives, walking and boat safaris.

TANDALA TENTED CAMP
Location: Tandala Tented Camp is located just outside Ruaha National Park only 5km from the park main gate, and about 20km from Msembe airstrip, and less than 2 hours’ drive to Iringa town (100km).
Accommodation: Tandala Tented Camp has a total of 10 spacious, elevated, luxury tents offering a variety of twin or double bed arrangements; extra beds are available for children or a third person. Each tent features an en-suite bathroom at the back, enclosed in thatch and rockwork over viewing the bush. Hot showers are provided by gas or solar. At the front of each room is a sizable verandah with comfortable seating perfect for relaxing in private to watch out for game along the Mdweka sand river.
Facilities & Services: Meals are prepared by the lodge Chef and Tandala is renowned for their delicious home style Mediterranean cuisine complemented by a selection of wines; candlelit dinner is usually served under the stars in the courtyard, by the campfire. Available activities include game drives with bush breakfasts & picnic lunches, walking safaris, cultural visits to villages, or just laze by the rock swimming pool underneath a giant baobab tree. You can enjoy the diversity of animals such as warthog, giraffe, greater kudu, dik dik, mongoose, bushbuck, redbacked and baboon, and the rare African hunting dogs during the early mornings. The biggest attraction at Tandala is the abundance of elephants which come and go regularly attracted by the water holes.

LAKE MANZE TENTED CAMP
Location: Lake Manze is located in the Selous Game Reserve, on the banks of Lake Manze, about an hour’s drive from Siwandu airstrip. The camp can also be accessed by road. The Lake Manze area is one of the richest game viewing locations in the Selous, both in the dry and wet season.
Accommodation: The camp consists of 12 tents spread out in the shade of natural vegetation, along the shores of the lake. The tents are “Meru style” canvas with double zip locking with mesh windows, spacious and furnished with twin or double beds. Each tent has private a verandah, an en suite bathroom behind it, with flush toilet and skylight shower with hot & cold water.
Facilities & Services: Dining can be in the thatched dining area during the day and under stars outside at night, with a campfire. Other activities include game drives, boat safaris and fishing in the calm waters of the lake, and early morning walking safaris accompanied by an armed ranger.
SELOUS RIVERSIDE SAFARI CAMP
Location: Selous Riverside Safari Camp is located outside the Selous Game Reserve, less than 10 kilometres or 20 minutes drive from Mtemere Gate and the airstrip. Hidden amongst dense forest and on the banks of the Rufiji River, Selous Riverside Safari Camp provides an excellent base for nature discovery and recreation.

Accommodation: Overlooking the Rufiji River, Selous Riverside Safari Camp consists of 10 large tented chalets, carefully spaced out to provide privacy and blend into the nature’s surrounding, overlooking the Rufiji River; five of the tents offer twin beds and the other five tents offer a big double bed, all with mosquito nets, private verandahs, en suite shower and toilet with hot & cold running water.

Facilities & Services: The main building houses the reception, dining and sitting areas, and the deck with a swimming pool overlooking the Rufiji River. Dinner can be served under the stars on the deck or in the dining area. Electricity in the camp is provided by a generator which is switched off at 22h00. Laundry services are available upon request. Activities include game drives, guided walking safaris, boat safaris on the Rufiji River, and cultural visits to the local villages.

BEHO BEHO CAMP
Location: Beho Beho is the first camp in the northern sector of the Selous game reserve, perched on the lower slopes of Namikwera Hill overlooking Kipalala Hill, with panoramic views over the Rufiji river flood plain. It is about 70 km or two hours drive from the main northern gate of Matambwe and 110 km or three hours drive from the western gate of Mtemere, less than 5km from the grave of Frederick Courteney Selous and within a kilometre to Beho Beho airstrip.

Accommodation: Beho Beho was the first camp to be sited in The Selous and consists of 8 spacious and airy cottages or bandas built out of local stone & palm leaf thatch totally open at the front on to a spacious verandah overlooking the unrivalled vistas of the African bush. Each individual banda is furnished with huge comfy chairs, a king-sized double bed with mosquito net, a Zanzibari day bed, a writing bureau and comfortable verandah furniture, and features a separate dressing room leading into a spacious bathroom with twin wash hand basins, a high flush WC and a spacious open-air shower where it is possible to shower and view big game at the same time. The bathrooms are supplied with Charlotte Rhys toiletries, shower gel, shampoo, conditioner, body lotion, soaps, a hair dryer and bathrobes. Other amenities include a ceiling fan, a personal security safe, hot water provided by solar panels, and 240v 50hz electricity supplied by a generator.

Facilities & Services: The open sided lounges and dining areas together with the cocktail bar and ‘billiards room’ provide a sophisticated setting for post safari relaxation, and the swimming pool and deck, with views along the Kipalala valley, an ideal place to cool off. Meals at Beho Beho are not confined to the formal dining area and may include bush breakfasts & brunches, picnic lunches with dinner taken ‘family style’ around a large table with guests and guides mingling together to discuss the events of the day, or under the stars, on the ‘parade ground’ or by the pool, or in the Eagle’s nest, or even in the bush. Available activities include game drives, nature walks around Beho Beho, boating safari in Lake Tagalala and visits to the hot sulphur springs, Maji Moto, where you can swim in the deep natural pools. Other facilities include internet and laundry service, and Beho Beho is an ideal location for small residential conferences, seminars and presentations. The camp is closed from mid March to early June.
TRAVEL INFORMATION

PASSPORTS & VISA
All visitors to Tanzania require a return or onward ticket and a valid passport with an entry or reentry visa, duly endorsed. Visas are not required for visitors from some Commonwealth countries and other specified countries. Visas can be obtained from any Tanzania Diplomatic Mission or Consulate abroad, and at main entry points including international airports, sea ports and border posts.

HEALTH
Visitors originating from or transiting through countries endemic with yellow fever need to have valid vaccination certificates. Visitors arriving directly into Tanzania from say Europe, the USA, Japan and other non-yellow fever areas are not required to produce vaccination certificates to gain entry. Visitors are advised to take anti-malaria tablets and make use of mosquito nets and insect sprays where provided. Comprehensive travel and medical insurance is recommended before travel.

CUSTOMS
Personal effects including binoculars, cameras, film, may be imported (temporarily) free of duty. A custom bond may be demanded from visitors bringing in professional video/filming equipment, radios, tape recorders and musical instruments to ensure the goods are re-exported. Firearms require a special permit that should be obtained in advance. Visitors buying local handicrafts must keep cash sales receipts and ownership certificates for wildlife trophies for presentation to Customs officials on departure.

CURRENCY
The unit of currency is the Tanzania Shilling (TShs) which is divided into 100 cents. Visitors can bring with them any amount of foreign currency but it is against the law to import or export Tanzania Currency. Foreign currency in cash or in travellers cheques may be exchanged at the commercial banks, authorised dealers, or at the bureau de changes operating at the international airports, major towns and border posts.

DEPARTURES
An airport tax of USD 30 is levied on all visitors departing the country by air. In many instances, this fee is included in your airline ticket. Baggage is weighed at check-in counters and may be inspected by Custom officials. Airport departure tax for domestic flights is about USD 6. All fees are subject to change.

LUGGAGE
Safari vehicles and small aircraft provide limited space for luggage. It is therefore recommended to travel with light bags since bulky suitcases will overload and might not be taken on board.

CLIMATE
The climate is tropical. The coastal areas are hot and humid with an average day temperature of 30 degrees centigrade. The central plateau is dry and arid with hot days and cool nights. In the northwest highlands around Arusha and Ngorongoro, the climate is temperate and cooler between June and September. The long rains are from March to May and the short rains fall between October and December. The hottest months are between October and February.

CLOTHING
Light tropical clothes, especially cotton slacks, shirts and skirts are most suitable. Some warm clothing is needed in the higher altitude areas around Ngorongoro Crater, Mt. Kilimanjaro and Arusha, especially in the evenings and early in the morning. Comfortable walking shoes are recommended on safari and guests are advised to carry some insect repellents. Visitors in Zanzibar are expected to dress modestly - avoid swim suits, miniskirts and other revealing clothing outside hotels, beaches and resorts.

LANGUAGE
The national language is Kiswahili but English is widely spoken and is the language of the tourist trade and other international businesses. Leopard Tours, however, boasts quite a few multilingual operations staff and driver-guides.

AIR TRAVEL
Several international airlines operate flights into Tanzania through Dar es Salaam, Kilimanjaro and Zanzibar International Airports. Travel within the country is by Air Tanzania (the national airline), Precision Air, Air Excel, Coastal Aviation, Zan Air, Regional Air, Tropical Air, Fastjet, and Auric Air.

FLYING DOCTOR MEMBERSHIP
A temporary AMREF Flying Doctor membership is recommended to cover air medical evacuation to Nairobi. Participation fees are: USD 5 for air ambulance coverage of Tanzania, Zanzibar and Kenya (AREA 1), and USD 9 covering Tanzania, Zanzibar, Kenya, Uganda, Rwanda and Burundi (AREA 2), all valid for a period of up to 30 days.

TIME - Tanzania has only one time zone. Local time is GMT +3 and Daylight Savings Time is not used.

ELECTRICITY - 215 – 240 Volts, 50 Cycles AC.
Dear Leopard team,

The last two weeks of August 2016 we traveled through Northern Tanzania, on a Safari tour you had arranged for us on behalf of our agent in the Netherlands.

Now we are back home and have had some time to digest everything we have seen and experienced (although we are still remembering new details), we felt the wish to let you know in person what a great trip we had. We traveled through many of your country’s beautiful national parks. It was not a straightforward trip, not a trip ‘from the shelf’ so to say. But everything was perfectly arranged: travel, lodges, food etc. Therefore we would like to send you a very big ‘Thank you’.

However, what made our trip truly unforgettable and – without any exaggeration ‘A once in a lifetime experience’ – is the driver/guide you had chosen to accompany us during our trip – Basil Thomas. He has really added enormous value to our trip.

That had various reasons. Firstly, he is a great and serious driver. Furthermore, he has great and broad knowledge about your country’s wildlife, nature, geology, culture and history. In addition, it was really unbelievable how many animals and wildlife Basil has spotted for us with his eagle eyes.

But above all Basil’s added value comes from his attitude. Basil put us as guests at the top of everything he arranged or did. Really nothing was too much trouble for him. We have traveled quite a lot before, but we have never had a guide that put his/her guests so at the core of everything he did or arranged. That really asks for a big, big compliment and thank you! We are convinced that our trip would have not been the same without Basil. Therefore, we would like to ask you to convey our thankfulness to him!

To the managing director,

Dear Sir,

We have just completed a safari with Victor Kombe and we would like to congratulate you on employing such a competent guide. During the 8 days he proved to be excellent in all aspects. He was a good driver and was considerate and polite to his clients at all times. He was amazing at locating various animals often by following tracks in the sand. His knowledge of geography, geology, biology and anthropology was phenomenal. He could answer any question we asked. He is a very intelligent person who is an outstanding ambassador for Leopard.

We would have no hesitation in recommending him to our travelling friends. Please convey our sincere thanks to Victor for making our Safari so memorable.

Dear Mr Fazal

My family and I had a wonderful holiday recently and a significant part of that experience is down to the 3 experienced guides we had the great fortune to be matched with. While all were excellent, My family and I spent the majority of our time with Basil. My wife is a marine biologist so has a keen knowledge and interest in animals and an understanding of biology. Basil was able to provide an extraordinary depth of information covering all of the flora and fauna we encountered. We believe his experience and ability to “read” the animals, in a significant part, was the reason we were so fortunate in seeing so many. All 3 of the guides were a credit to your organisation and we thoroughly enjoyed their company beyond just their guiding capabilities. We have passed these comments on to our travel agent, Mary Rossi Travel, so I hope you obtain repeat business through that organisation. I know we will be recommending Leopard Tours to other travelers.

All the best to you.
