

Greetings from Tanzania.

This is to update you on what is happening in Tanzania as we try to manage the ravages of corona virus.

Tourism has come to a standstill in Tanzania, with most international airlines suspending flights into the destination, and many accommodation suppliers temporarily closing including mainstream chains like Serena Hotels, Zanzibar Collection, Tanganyika Wilderness Camps (TWC) and Elewana Collection - see attached.

On the bright side, there are only 13 cases reported in the country (no deaths) so far, and the Tanzania Ministry of Health has introduced stringent measures to control the spread of the virus - see link below:

Stay safe.
